

Kouyaté Arts is a West African Music, Song And Dance Performance Company, Directed by husband and wife duo Boka and Afua Kouyaté.

The sights and the sounds of the Kouyaté Arts is an exotic blend of celebration and awareness. Live music, song and dance provides a festive and dynamic style of West African culture. All presentations are suitable for the entire family. Everyone can relate to a happy experience!

This company operates within the Adefua Cultural Education Workshop (ACEW's) organizational structure. ACEW is a 501(c) (3) non-profit organization that is committed to developing and maintaining relationships with community agencies, cultural councils, school districts, scholars, parents and education-focused organizations. Adefua has spearheaded community partnerships over the past 30 years, providing cultural messages that infuse ways of maintaining and preserving African traditions.

A pathway to sustainability will take a village and a team of Cultural artists to enhance engaging communities by sharing this rich culture. Creating opportunity is building capacity, which is; key to developing Kouyaté Arts. In keeping history alive! We are available in the following ways:

- Partnering annual celebrations
- Supporting Kouyaté Arts Performances
- Planning Music and Dance education in the schools and community
- Invite us to your ceremonies and parties
- Join us! Travel To Africa (Holiday excursion to Kankan, Guinea)
- Board members and volunteers (We would love your time with us!)
